Dear Carol:

As your January calendar fills up, sure hope Tuesday, 1/24 is still open. Please let us know by this Friday, 1/13. And if you can't make it, we'd love to get a 1x1 meeting on the schedule at a mutually convenient time.

Thanks and happy new year!

Kristine

Dear Carol:

On behalf of Wayne Smutz, Dean of Extension & Continuing Education at UCLA, I am writing to invite you to "Dine with the Dean" on Tuesday, January 24, 8:30-10 a.m. at an intimate breakfast on campus at the beautiful new Luskin Center http://luskinconferencecenter.ucla.edu (and we've arranged valet parking on site for easy in and out).

As you may know, UCLA has embarked on $4.2B campaign in honor of its 100th Anniversary in 2019. As part of that, and in recognition of our own Centennial in 2017, UCLA Extension is engaged in an exciting effort to extend the benefits of our world-class, hands-on learning platform to more people throughout the City and beyond. We serve more than 50,000 students each year, and award 2,000+ professional certificates, but we're not satisfied!

Indeed, with expanded scholarships, new community outposts, and cutting-edge online teaching modalities, UCLA Extension aims to be the most nimble and transformative part of the University. As Dean Smutz begins his third year at the helm of our (soon) 100-year-old institution, the pace of change is accelerating and the opportunities for impact are exploding.

As such, he is looking for thought-partners, ambassadors, and influencers to help shape—and tell—the story. It is with this in mind that he's gathering with colleagues like you, who are informed, connected, and passionate about your work, your community, and your role in making change.

With hope that you can join us, please check your calendar and let me know.

I'm cc'ing the Dean's executive assistant, Jakquelyn Taylor-Sullivan, and you can also feel free to call or email me with thoughts or questions.

Best regards,

Kristine Breese
